Photography meets Art – SCHNEIDER KREUZNACH presents photomontages by Anett Stuth

BAD KREUZNACH, 29 September 2011.

Jos. Schneider Optische Werke GmbH presents its fourth exhibition of photographic art entitled “Heute ist Vergangenheit” (Today is the Past) from 2 to 23 October, every Sunday between 2 and 5 p.m. The photomontages by Anett Stuth combine past and future, space and time, everyday life and film. “In the artist’s elaborate works, surreal elements clash with the dry aesthetics of modern image processing. We were particularly impressed by the individual character of each work of art,” says Wolfgang Berger, Head of Corporate Communications at Schneider-Kreuznach.

The artist draws on different genres, times and styles to create profound and at times melancholic visual worlds that seem to hover between illusion and imagination.

Anett Stuth was born in Leipzig in 1965. In 1991, she began studying photography at the Academy of Visual Arts in Leipzig under Prof. Arno Fischer. After graduating, she joined the class of Prof. Timm Rautert as a master student. Since then, she has lived and worked in Berlin. Her pictures are currently on display in Löhrl art gallery in Mönchengladbach under the title “Nichts bleibt wie es war” (Nothing Stays the Same) and in the Museum of Fine Arts in Leipzig. For many years now, Anett Stuth has used lenses made by Schneider-Kreuznach to create her works of art.

The exhibition is being held on the premises of Jos. Schneider Optische Werke, Ringstraße 132, in Bad Kreuznach. Entrance is free.
